LEINSTER.

We feel great pleasure in recording the following instance of liberality, which has been lately made known to us:—The Rev. Mr. H. who has been for above 20 years past, Curate of Balrothery parish, having, some time ago, received a notice of dismissal, from a new Rector who intends to do his own duty, a great number of the Protestant inhabitants, unwilling to lose their beloved pastor, waited on him immediately, and offered to subscribe a larger salary for him than he had before, provided he remained and give them prayers in the town of Balbriggan; and it is more satisfactory that several Roman Catholics also (with a liberality highly honourable to themselves, as well as to the object of it) offered on the same conditions, to subscribe as largely as the former.

AGRICULTURAL REPORT.

From June 20, till July 20.

THE weather for several weeks past, has been extremely hot and dry, which has greatly set up the oat crops on poor or exhausted grounds, and they are likely to be short and small headed.

The wheat in some districts is also complained of for being thin, particularly in the light grounds in the Barony of Lecale, where it is understood there is not a prospect of a heavy crop, in some other quarters there is a better appearance although in some places, the farmers are apprehensive of injury from the rust or red blast, which is observed in many of the wheat fields.

The crops of grain however upon the whole, look tolerably well, and it has been remarked by an extensive farmer from the west of Ireland, who has lately been in this country, that they look much better in the north, than in the more southern districts.

Much of the hay has been got up in excellent order, but, on the dry grounds the quantity is thought to be small, owing, as it is supposed, to the very dry weather we had in May.
